

Dorothy M. Mazzarella

---

Dorothy M. Mazzarella is currently employed by the International Code Council, Inc. as the vice president of government relations. In this capacity, Mazzarella works directly with the senior vice president of government relations in achieving the coalition building and national code adoption, implementation, and support of the International Codes. Mazzarella works directly with the twelve state and local government relations managers as well as members and organizations nationwide.

Prior to her current position, Mazzarella (aka Harris) served as deputy secretary of state for local government and community services at the New York State Department of State. Mazzarella was responsible for the oversight of five divisions within the Department of