

Anthony Floyd, Fellow AIA, BEAP, Member ASHRAE, LEED® AP

Anthony is a licensed architect and certified sustainability professional. Since 1997, he has served as the Green Building Program Manager for the City of Scottsdale and is a former Scottsdale building official (1988–1995). He helped to establish Arizona's first Green Building Program.

Floyd is responsible for education, outreach, project qualification, and maintaining Scottsdale's regionally based green and energy-efficiency criteria. He was instrumental in Scottsdale's adoption of the International Green Construction Code (IgCC), International Energy Conservation Code (IECC), and LEED® Gold city facility policy. Floyd currently serves on the ASHRAE 189.1 project committee and the ICC Sustainability, Energy & High Performance Code Action Committee (SEHPCAC).